

3.2 What does every AI tool want?

Every LLM requires approximately three things: knowledge, reasoning, and improved reasoning ability.

3.2.1 Knowledge

The first thing that LLMs need is knowledge. You need to help understand the topic you are speaking about. So, providing knowledge means providing your subject matter expertise. Let's consider yourself as a digital marketing expert specialising in search engine optimisation (SEO).

Then, you can give specific commands to the bot, such as if you want your keywords to be optimised for a heading, body copy, title, or even an image alt tag. These terminologies are only known to somebody who is an expert as in SEO.
