

If you take a look at the Assistant version, it is very similar to the Chat version. However, you can fine-tune the model itself in this case. You can give it a new name and add new files.

When you add your files, it will start answering based on them instead of external sources.