

- ◆ Like most American households, most wealthy households have a MasterCard and a Visa card.
- ◆ The millionaire household is four times more likely to hold a Sears card (43 percent) than a Brooks Brothers card (10 percent).
- ◆ Both Sears and Penney's cards are significantly more popular among the wealthy than the cards of status retailers.
- ◆ Only 21 percent of the wealthy households in America hold the Neiman Marcus card; 25 percent, Saks Fifth Avenue; 25 percent, Lord & Taylor; and only 8.1 percent, the Eddie Bauer card.
- ◆ Only 6.2 percent of the millionaire respondents hold the American Express Platinum card; 3.4 percent hold Diners Club; and fewer than 1 percent own Carte Blanche.
