

perils have reached the west,
in this little waking vigil
that still remains to our senses, let us not choose to avoid the experience of the unpeopled world that lies behind the sun.
Consider the seeds from which you sprang:
You were made not to live like beasts,
but to seek virtue and understanding.”
With this little oration I made my shipmates so eager for the voyage
that it would have hurt to hold them back.
And we swung our stern toward the morning and turned our oars into wings for the wild flight.²

Investing, too, is an adventure; the financial future is always an uncharted world. With Graham as your guide, your lifelong investing voyage should be as safe and confident as it is adventurous.
