

Bibliographical Note

This Ixia Press edition, first published in 2022, is an unabridged republication of a standard edition of the work first published in 1926.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Names: Clason, George S. (George Samuel), 1874–1957, author.

Title: The richest man in Babylon : the success secrets of the ancients /George S. Clason.

Description: Garden City, New York : Ixia Press, 2022. | "This Ixia Press edition, first published in 2022, is an unabridged republication of a standard edition of the work first published in 1926"—Title page verso. | Summary: "Money is plentiful for those who understand the simple laws which govern its acquisition." Read by millions, The Richest Man in Babylon is a classic that offers today's readers a path to success, prosperity, and happiness. Originally published in 1926 as a series of inspirational pamphlets for financial institutions, Clason's work offers financial advice for creating personal wealth using parables set in ancient Babylon. The stories, based on a fictional character, Arkad, are easy to read and packed with priceless wisdom. Offering seven basic principles on saving and investing money, it's often cited as one of the most popular books ever written on the fundamentals of financial success"—Provided by publisher.

Identifiers: LCCN 2021053882 | ISBN 9780486849607 (paperback)

Subjects: LCSH: Business ethics. | Wealth—Moral and ethical aspects.

Classification: LCC HF5387 .C57 2022 | DDC 174/.4—dc23/eng/20211110

LC record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2021053882>