

Ketan for payment for the buy orders he had placed with them, he must have bluntly told them that he did not have the money to honour their commitments. There was nothing they could do.