

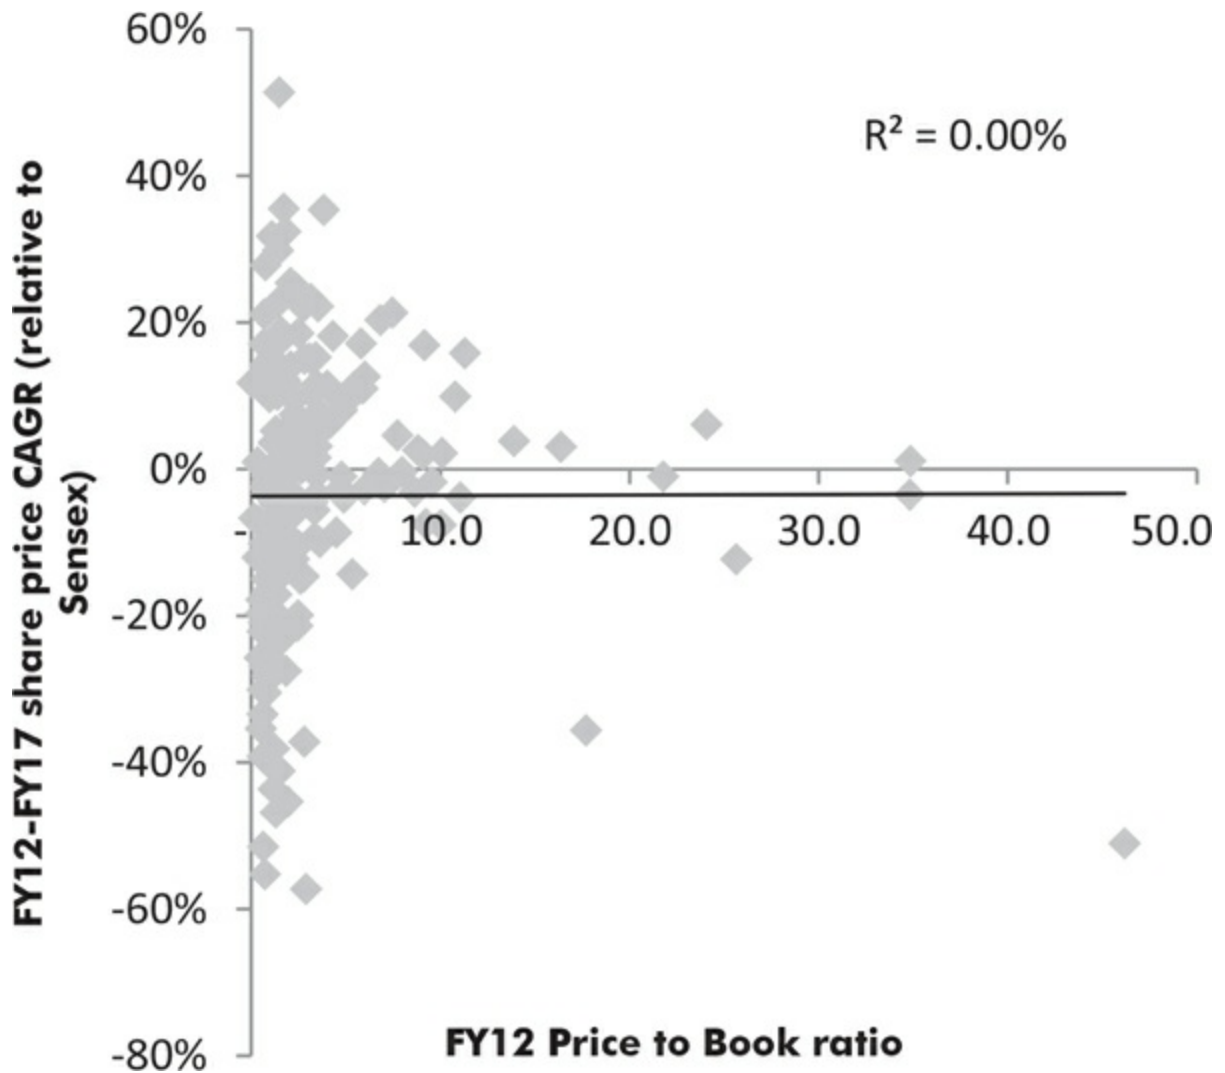

Exhibit 160: No correlation of five-year returns with starting P/B multiple

Note: Returns here are stock returns relative to the Sensex.

Scenario 2 (bullish phase of the stock market): To ensure that the returns profile is not influenced by the underlying period, in the second scenario we consider the bull periods of FY2003–06 and FY2003–08. Unlike the previous scenario, this was a period of strong macroeconomic activity, and yet even in this scenario there is no clear correlation between starting period multiples and the subsequent returns.
