

Transfer to Reserves

The transfer to reserves is the profit ploughed back into the company. This may be done to finance working capital, expansion, fixed assets or for some other purpose. These are revenue reserves and can be distributed to shareholders as dividends.