

may be in a depression. This can result in a tremendous decline in revenues and even threaten the viability of the company.