

Note: Remember that this is bigger than just your desires. For example, if you bring your parents, they might need more downtime. Younger children might need snacks. Create your vision, then think about what would make this magical and unforgettable for your entire group.