

Write down your vision of who you are in ten years. Where are you living? Who do you see on a Friday or Saturday night? And if you look at how you spend your time, how much is spent at work versus pure leisure?

[illegible]