

Now dream huge! I want you to write down your wildest vision of success ten years from now. Don't hold anything back.

What's your lifestyle?

What time do you wake up?

Can you work remotely?

Are you in control
of your time?

What are you
passionate about?

Do you have a deep
purpose that excites you?

Are you extraordinarily well compensated for
the work that you do?
How well?

What role does money
play in your life? Is it not the primary
problem anymore?

Have you "won" the game of money?

Are you now looking for more meaning instead of simply accumulating more money?
