

slipping into disaster and staying afloat. You are doing OK if

1. you have six months' living costs in an emergency fund;
2. you are a double-income family with no dependent parents and have three months' living expenses;
3. you are a single-income home with dependent parents and have a year's living costs in an emergency fund;
4. your emergency fund sits in ultra-short-term or conservative hybrid mutual funds.
