

Actions for Step Four

- ☐ Identify your triggers for emotional spending by looking at past spending behaviour.
- ☐ Reframe the way that you see desirable objects – do you need to possess them to appreciate them?
- ☐ Reconsider your relationship with consumerism, and focus on other motivations for reducing how much you consume.
- ☐ Protect yourself by taking practical steps to reduce your exposure to tempting marketing, such as unfollowing brands and influencers, and unsubscribing from emails.
- ☐ Commit to taking at least twenty-four hours to consider new purchases.
- ☐ Make sure that you fulfil your basic needs before looking for something new to buy.
