

Five Steps to Financial Wellbeing

content in the present, and protecting the future version of yourself too. In planning for our financial future and taking steps in the present to protect and care for ourselves, we are doing our best to ensure that all of the needs in our hierarchy are met in the years to come. We are showing ourselves some care and consideration. Planning for your financial future is an act of self-care and self-respect, and it is one that you fully and richly deserve.

Actions for Step Five

- ☐ Consider the kind of lifestyle that you want for yourself, and make sure that there's not a big gap between your means and your aspirations.
- ☐ Set financial goals, and check back in on them as an additional habit. You could include this in your budgeting ritual, or treat it completely separately.
- ☐ Create a saving and/or investing plan for your money.
- ☐ Write a 'manifesto for credit' – a pledge to yourself to utilize credit and debt only in a way that serves you.
- ☐ Break big savings goals into manageable chunks.
- ☐ Learn to accept the ebb and flow of life and money, safe in the knowledge that you are doing everything you can to protect and nurture your financial wellbeing.
