

Five Steps to Financial Wellbeing

To everyone who propped me up during the pandemic – my mum, Fiona, Pete, Chloe, Stef, Lucy, Sam, Hayley, Kathryn and more – thank you for helping me to stay sane enough to write. To Dr Ezobi, thank you for throwing me a lifeline when everything went suddenly dark. To my boys, thank you for loving me and each other so fiercely, and for being so brilliantly yourselves. Thank you for giving me a reason to get up in the morning when it felt impossible. To Phil, thank you for being my anchor. Without you, I am entirely adrift.
