

Tools for Wealth Protection

Fearless, massive growth happens when your wealth is protected.

Until the last section, we were talking about investing your money to generate wealth that beats inflation after paying all your taxes. It is your wisdom to pick the right investment tool for a specific financial goal that will decide the overall wealth that you are able to generate and the speed at which you are able to generate the same.

While wealth creation is key to financial freedom, we must not undermine, by any means, the importance of protecting the wealth that we are creating, from external, unexpected situations of life. We will plan our financial life for sure, but life usually never turns out to be, as planned. While we cannot pre-empt everything in life (and being unpredictable is the true charm of life), we can definitely plan our wealth to be protected against some of the possible situations that may have a significant impact on our accumulated wealth. It is just wise to protect what we accumulate.

Until Revision 1 of this book, we did not have this section on Wealth Protection. We did have Life Insurance covered, and that too, as a small part
