

naturally.

But whatever the source of knowledge, I neither know nor have I heard or read about a single self made millionaire who does not understand and apply the principles as explained in this section of the book.

This is good news for us. This means that everyone can choose to live the life they desire. The control of life and your finances comes right back to you. This is immense power in your hands to script the story of your life.

I am not giving you any magical formula that I created or invented. I am just outlining the fundamental financial principles that, if applied, can result in serious wealth accumulation over time. Just like any natural law, once we know how these fundamental laws of wealth creation work, we can use them to our advantage and accumulate all the wealth that we want.

It is all in our control and it is our choice.

If you have a strong reason to be wealthy, I can assure you that you will be unstoppable after understanding this section.

Have a strong reason

The simplest questions in life are the most difficult to answer. You must have already heard many of these:

Where do you see yourself five years from now?

What are your goals in life?

Why do you need money? Why do you want to be wealthy?

What is the significance of financial freedom?

What can you do if you were actually financially free?

As common and simple as these questions sound, it is difficult to obtain the right answers instantly. But at the same time, it is important to answer them, otherwise it may be difficult to survive in difficult times.
