

- When investing in mutual funds, select the right mix of Large Cap, Mid Cap and Small Cap funds.

The 4th lever is the most ignored and the most powerful vehicle you have in your hand to amass huge wealth.

Check Your Emotions – Be Logical – Apply Rules

One of the biggest contributors to you getting wealthy, is your check on your own emotions. This is bigger than any technical knowledge or any analysis that you may ever do. Be it staying logically calm and holding on to your investments while investing in stocks while the market plays mayhem, selling out some equity as per your target when the market is at its peak, rebalancing your portfolio, deciding to close some of your insurance policies or non performing funds – if you can take decisions logically rather than emotionally, you will always be a winner in the long run.

This check on your emotions, this self control is what will distinguish you from the pack. Disciplined investing is an arm of self control. Irrespective from where you start it will always be your attitude and not your aptitude that will determine your altitude.

To enable you to take logical and informed decisions quickly enough, we have provided some thumb rule based calculators for you on our Freedom Portal. These will help you take logically correct decisions at various points during your beautiful journey towards Financial Freedom.

Registered users on the Freedom Portal can re-use the financial data that they may have already entered for their financial freedom planning to use as input to these calculators.

So, go ahead; try them out. At the same time, be aware that a detailed calculation always wins over a thumb rule or a calculator. A thumb rule is an effective tool only when you do not have the time or you do not have all the inputs needed to perform a detailed calculation. Here are some calculators that you can readily access from our Freedom Portal:
