

Before Calling It a Day

*I don't dream at night, I dream all day;
I dream for a living.*
— Benjamin Franklin

A mediocre idea that generates enthusiasm will go further than a great idea that inspires no one.
— Mary K Ash

Sooner or later, and I am sure when you are very close to your financial freedom, you will reach a day when you would have accumulated enough money in your nest egg. Your nest egg would be like a grown up child now, whom you nourished, cared for and helped reach a certain stage in life where it can take care of itself. Not only that, just like your grown up child, money can now take care of you as well. You have crossed that threshold amount which is needed for the money to actually act as your slave, and create more money automatically without you actively working for it.