

you are in a position to offer such help to anyone. It is this feeling of freedom to help anyone that in itself is enough to drive you to the changes that you need to achieve your personal financial freedom.

God knows how to help you

If your intentions are good, God will always find a way to help you achieve your goals. Have trust, keep trying and things will surely fall into place.

During my journey of financial freedom, in the year 2012, my target to achieve my monthly goals increased by around ₹50,000 per month, from what it was in 2011. I did not know how to achieve this additional ₹50,000 per month. I knew that around 25% of this additional amount could be covered by the returns generated from the nest egg that I had at the end of 2011, but I did not know from where I was to get the remaining 75%. I was determined to achieve my goals but I had no idea how I would be able to do so.

On 2nd Jan 2012 – the first working day of the year in office –many things happened within 3 hours, which proved to me that God knows how to help you.

- 6:30 a.m. – I checked the stock market and for the first time my portfolio had increased by almost 15% in one day whereas it had decreased to a large extent through 2011.
- 7:30 a.m. – Before leaving for office, I checked my mail box and quite unbelievably, I found a $100 refund from my dentist whom I had visited some 4 months back. Not that $100 was a big amount but it was completely unexpected and most welcome.
- 8:30 a.m. – In office whilst going through the mails, flashes a mail from my manager in India which states that my salary has been increased by more than 10% as a special "off cycle" promotion. This "off cycle" progression was again unexpected (it is not a normal annual salary increment) and had never happened to me before in my 17 year long career.
- I was earning my salary in US dollars and was able to transfer money to India online. After we reached the US (early in the year
