

on chapter 8. They are money in your pocket.

- Look at the list of deductions beginning on section Some Straightforward Itemized Deductions. If you're eligible for some of them, fill out the 1040 form to see if itemizing saves you money. And be aware that you can take some deductions—like those for deductible IRA contributions or student loan interest payments—whether you itemize or not.
- If you're self-employed, you're not supposed to wait until the end of the year to pay Uncle Sam. You may be required to pay your taxes quarterly (every three months) or you could be penalized. For details, read Self-Employment Tax, Topic 554, available at www.irs.gov.
