

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

EVERY VERSION OF Get a Financial Life has been an enormous team effort. Beginning on Acknowledgments, I've listed nearly 700 sources to whom I turned for expertise in both the original and current editions of the book. This special section, however, acknowledges those people who have made contributions above and beyond the call of duty.

First, the financial experts who have given generously of their time in helping me prepare all three versions of Get a Financial Life. Special thanks go to investment advisors Lew and Karen Altfest; student loan advisor and president of Campus Consultants Kalman Chany; fee-only insurance consultant Glenn Daily; professor of bank management at the University of Virginia Richard DeMong; Credit.com credit advisor Gerri Detweiler; communications consultant of the Consumer Bankers Association Fritz Elmendorf; vice president at HSH Associates Keith Gumbinger; executive director of the Women's Institute for a Secure Retirement Cindy Hounsell; life insurance actuary with the Consumer Federation of America James Hunt; director of consumer affairs at the Insurance Information Institute Jeanne Salvatore; and president of CNW Marketing Research Art Spinella.

I also owe a debt of gratitude to the following people, whose expertise was invaluable in putting together this new edition of the book: associate director for external relations at the Center for Retirement Research Andrew Eschtruth; consumer advocate buyer's agent of CarQ.com Linda Lee
