

Is there a single formula that builds irresistible success? A single formula that gives you many times the success power you ever had before? Napoleon Hill's great new book shows you that there is such a formula, what it is, why it works so well—and exactly how to use it for your own great break-through to wealth of every kind. "Know your own mind, live your own life," says Napoleon Hill. He shows you how, in being yourself, you find your best self. He gives you secrets of personal influence that can pyramid your powers far beyond anything you ever thought could be.