

DOES MONEY HAVE A VALUE?

Imagine that you've been shipwrecked on a desert island. Washed up on the beach from the wreckage are: a suitcase crammed with cash, a wooden chest full of gold, and a crate of cans and packages of food. Which is most valuable to you? Are the money or the gold worth anything if you have nowhere to spend them?

Numismatics is the study or collection of money, such as in the form of coins and banknotes.
