

remember and internalize when working in environments that require a fixed-return assumption without an accompanying volatility.