

reliable income for retirement. Those with less time before retirement could make adjustments to this strategy accordingly.