

Otherwise, it is worth considering that both of these studies demonstrate how working with a financial advisor can lead to net positive outcomes and be cost-effective, especially as you age. It doesn't take much to improve your standard of living through better decision-making, even after accounting for any fee related to planning advice.