A few other threats to consider: Armed toddlers kill 21 people per year (and rising). Autoerotic asphyxiation is 150 deaths each year. Two people die each year because vending machines fall on them (“Be less stupid” means not rocking these back and forth to get your candy). Seventeen people died climbing Mount Everest. Twenty-eight people died skateboarding. Why are these numbers a concern? They were a blip out of the 2,813,503 deaths in the United States in 2017, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. See also: Daniel D.
