

Hollywood to see if we can find any more billion-dollar mistakes.

19 The Beatles, allmusic.com.

20 Bob Seawright, “Eyes Wide Open: The Beatles and Their Critics,” The Better Letter (February 1, 2024). See also: Cary Schneider “What the critics wrote about the Beatles in 1964,” Los Angeles Times (February 9, 2014).

21 Bob Seawright, “Eyes Wide Open: The Beatles and Their Critics,” The Better Letter (February 1, 2024).

22

See also Steve Silverman, “Early Criticism of The Beatles,” Useless Information (February 11, 2016).

23 Billboard Hot 100™, billboard.com/charts/hot-100/1964-02-01 (February 1, 1964).

24 Richard Harrington, “The Birth Of Beatlemania: 25 Years Ago Today, That Sullivan Show,” The Washington Post (February 9, 1989).

25

Derek Thompson, Hit Makers: The Science of Popularity in an Age of Distraction (Penguin Books, 2017). It was first published as: Derek Thompson “The Four-Letter Code to Selling Just About Anything,” The Atlantic (January/February 2017).

26 Ted Gioia, “Why Did the Beatles Get So Many Bad Reviews?” The Honest Broker (January 30, 2023).

27 Elvis Costello, “100 Greatest Beatles Songs,” Rolling Stone (April 10, 2020).