

KEY TAKEAWAYS: INVESTING

- Investing is a long-term strategy. Do not put money into the market unless you are comfortable leaving it there for 10 years or more. If it feels like a rush, you are probably taking too big a risk.
- Diversify your investments. You do not want to have all your money invested in a single stock or asset, like a house.
- Mutual funds and index funds are a great way to diversify your investments and grow your wealth.
- Use a brokerage with low fees and low expense ratios. Expense ratios eat into your ROI, so try to keep those as low as possible.
- If you are young and unsure what to invest in, invest in an index fund that tracks the market (S&P 500) with a low expense ratio. Historically, the market goes up. The longer you keep your money in the market, the more likely you are to earn a solid ROI.
