

health insurance provider; that information can usually be found on your provider's website. If you seek services outside your network, you will likely be expected to pay a much higher portion of the bill—or even all of it.