

KEY TAKEAWAYS: INSURANCE

- Having insurance is crucial in helping keep you medically, legally, and financially protected. Without insurance, you are exposing yourself to an incredible amount of risk.
- It is illegal in nearly every state to drive without car insurance.
- A premium is the amount of money you pay each month for your insurance policy. A deductible is the amount of money you need to spend before your insurance begins to pay for covered costs.
- A copay is the set amount of money you need to pay each time you receive covered medical expenses. Coinsurance is the percentage you are required to pay for the covered medical expenses you receive.
- Choose the insurance that is right for you. If you are someone who never gets sick and has not visited the hospital in years, you probably do not need the most expensive health insurance offered to you.
- You can receive health insurance through your employer or from a marketplace.
