

KEY TAKEAWAYS: BASIC BANKING

- You need a bank account to keep your finances organized.
- You should have a checking account for your everyday purchases and a savings account for your savings and emergency funds.
- Determine if an online bank, credit union, or traditional bank is best for you.
- Check your account balances often using your online banking account. This helps you avoid going into overdraft, and it allows you to monitor any suspicious activity.
- Find a bank with zero fees or very low fees.
- Do not enroll in overdraft protection. While it claims to protect you, it often kills your budget by charging huge fees.
