

Sydney

Blue Spinach

348 Liverpool Street

Darlinghurst

bluespinach.com.au

Come here for Alexander McQueen to Zegna, with online lay-by available. If you visit in person, it's hard to miss this corner terrace, painted cerulean blue. Inside, for men, are Louis Vuitton dress shoes, Brioni and Tom Ford ties, and Prada weekender bags, and for women, Balmain and Dior blazers – sharply cut to mean business – Chanel booties, Manolo Blahnik pumps and Louis Vuitton earrings.

Harlequin Market

Shop 4, Kiora Arcade

369 New South Head Road

Double Bay

harlequinmarket.com

This store has a glittering cache of collectible costume jewels, sourced from around the world by founder Bruna Harrison, who also makes original pieces. The bold and beautiful stash is not for shrinking violets. Serious fashionistas will know the name of the more obscure brands – Ciner, Kenneth Jay Lane, William Griffiths – but most will be more familiar with the selection of Chanel and Oscar de la Renta. Perhaps you'll find an 18-carat-gold cicada necklace, an Egyptian revival pendant, a black enamel panther's-head brooch, or an emerald ring the size of a bread plate.

Reuze Vintage

294 Oxford Street

Paddington

Instagram: @reuze_vintage

Celebrities and style insiders shop and rent their frocks from here. Brands include Chanel, Lacroix, Dior, Pucci, Hermès, Courrèges and YSL. But it's the curation of classic Australian designers, including Carla Zampatti, Easton Pearson and Lisa Ho, that has sparked a cult following. Owner Angela Greenaway has been an op-shop aficionado since she was in her