

reshuffle the queue – it may mean that different people get to the head of the queue and buy homes than would be the case in the absence of those concessions – but they don't, in my view, do anything to increase the homeowner rate overall.

In spite of the debate, if you're planning to purchase property and these concessions are offered to you, you're going to take them. With all of that in mind, and being careful with your budget, here's where to check if you are eligible:

First home owner grants (FHOGs)

New South Wales

osr.nsw.gov.au

1300 130 624

Victoria

sro.vic.gov.au

13 21 61

Queensland

treasury.qld.gov.au

1300 300 734

Western Australia

finance.wa.gov.au

(08) 9262 1299

South Australia

revenuesa.sa.gov.au

(08) 8226 3750 or 1800 637 778

Tasmania

sro.tas.gov.au

(03) 6166 4400 or 1800 001 388

Northern Territory

treasury.nt.gov.au